OPTIONS FOR CONTENT

If you're still not feeling inspired or you have too many other commitments to invest the time needed to put together your newsletter articles, there is another option.

Private Label Rights (PLR) Content is a great resource when you lack the motivation or the time or would rather invest your energy in other business activities. How does it work?

Simply visit one of the PLR sites I have recommended below or do your own online research ensuring the content is professionally written and edited.

HERE ARE A FEW PLR SITES THAT I RECOMMEND

Articles and article packages are grouped into a seemingly unlimited number of available topics. There are a set amount of sales allowed per product (called licenses).

When you have found what you're looking for, click to purchase and download immediately. In general, once you purchase these articles you have the right to use the material in any way you want*. You can use them as is or alter them in any way you need to. One exception, you cannot submit these articles to the article marketing directories as your own work.

 Always check the License Information for your PLR content that outlines what you CAN and CAN NOT do with the PLR you are purchasing.*
